Reception

The FEAD conference is followed by a dinner organised by the Flemish Waste Management Conference is the European Federation representing the European waste management industry. FEAD's members are national waste management associations covering 20 European countries. They have an approximate 60 % share in the household waste market and handle more than 75 % of industrial and commercial waste in Europe. Their combined annual turnover is approximately € 75 billion.

FEAD represents about 3 000 companies with activities in all forms of waste management.

These companies employ over 320 000 people who operate around 2 400 recycling and sorting centres, 1 100 composting sites, 260 waste-to-energy plants and 900 controlled landfills. They play an important role in the determination of the best environmental option for waste management problems.

FEBEM-FEGE

is the Belgian association, member of FEAD, who promotes and defends the interests of companies under private law active in the waste chain. FEBEM-FEGE is active on local, regional, federal, European and international level.

The members of FEBEM-FEGE are involved in collection, sorting, recycling, treating and processing waste and contaminated soil. Together they close the circle of materials and fuels.

FEBEM-FEGE represents 8 000 employees in approximately 200 companies with a total turnover of more than € 2 billion.
